

ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 3.

It will be seen that the board of inquiry in the case of Bishop Whittingham of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Maryland, concluded its labors last night, and refused to bring the bishop to trial by a vote of 9 to 4. The board adopted a resolution censuring Revs. Messrs. Ritchie and Perry, of Mount Calvary Church, who had used prayers for the dead. The charge against the bishop was for not bringing the clergymen to trial on presentations for these alleged practices. Of the thirteen members of the board who were present there were only four who voted in favor of bringing the bishop to trial, and these were from Virginia.

The Postoffice Department is making a determined effort to break up the practice of making straw bids for mail contracts, and to this end is enforcing the law confiscating the deposits required of all contractors bidding for mail service, who fail to fulfil the contracts awarded to them. Under this rule the Department last week confiscated three checks of Matthew Draper, a defaulting contractor, and the money, $1,639, was received on Saturday. This is the first money ever obtained by the Department under the rule.

The Lynchburg Virginian expresses the belief, entertained by a majority of our people, that by straightforward dealing the Old Dominion will be able to pay the interest on its share of the outstanding debt of the State, and will be in a condition after awhile—if it does not adopt a policy that would repel honest immigrants, cause capital to shun investments, and drive her best citizens away—to pay every dollar of her bonded debt, and to be one of the most wealthy and prosperous States of the Union.

The New York Tribune says "the general feeling at the Police Headquarters concerning the testimony in regard to the Nathan murder, given by S. H. Conklin before the Legislative Committee on Friday, is one of distrust. One of the Police Inspectors plainly said yesterday that Conklin is an entirely untrustworthy man. He knew Conklin for several years past, and said that he was turned out of the police force, and was dismissed also from the Fire Department."

Col. Valentine Baker, of the English army, who has acquired a rather unenviable notoriety for an assault upon a young lady in a railway carriage, was yesterday tried before the Croydon Assizes, the jury rendering a verdict of not guilty of attempting to ravish, but guilty of indecent assault. Col. Baker was sentenced to imprisonment for twelve months and to pay a fine of £500, together with the costs of prosecution.

The returns of the census of New York city, taken under the authority of the municipal government, show the aggregate population of the city, including portions recently annexed, to be one million and fifty thousand. This is several hundred thousand less than what has been claimed. The increase, as compared with the census of 1870, is less than one hundred thousand.

Further accounts of the damage by the rains and overflows, show immense losses in Missouri and other Western States, and a widely extended break up of travel on railroads running to and from the leading business centres of the West. Several places have been inundated, and some narrow escapes from drowning are reported.

The Kentucky State election took place yesterday. In the last election Leslie, democrat, received 37,000 majority. Returns received are meagre, but indicated the usual democratic success. In Louisville, however, Harlan, the republican candidate for Governor, ran ahead of his ticket and reduced the democratic majority.

The sale of the Northern Pacific Railroad, which was to have taken place yesterday at New York, has been postponed for the purpose of giving further time to the bondholders and stockholders to assent in a plan for reorganization and a share in the benefits of the purchase.

The school-tax levy at Indianapolis, Ind., for the ensuing year will be forty cents higher than the total levy of last year, and the municipal tax proper will be forty-four cents in excess of that of last year; and still the people don't grumble.

It is stated by a Constantinople paper that the Grand Vizier, by way of setting an example of economy, has reduced his own salary from 2,500 Turkish pounds a month to 600. And after all, as appears by a cablegram lately printed, he has not escaped the bow-string.

Mr. A. F. Gibbs, of Orange, is reported to have been damaged by a storm on Saturday week to the extent of $800. Rev. Dr. Charles Quarles reports it as the severest storm that ever passed over his farm within his recollection.

The Pennsylvania State treasurer having submitted to the commissioners of the sinking fund at Harrisburg a statement showing the balance in the sinking fund to be $435,633 they have directed notice to be given the Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank of Philadelphia that they are prepared to redeem upon presentation the balance of the 5-10 loan of the Commonwealth, amounting to $434,850, and also that similar notice be given the holders of Chambersburg certificates, issued under act of May 27, 1871, and amounting to $73,168; interest on both to cease November 1.

The Chicago Times publishes an affidavit of a man in South Chicago, who swears that he picked up a bottle on the Lake shore which contained a card on which was written a message dated 2 a. m. on the 16th ultimo, and signed N. S. G. (Newton S. Grimwood), which stated that the gas was rapidly escaping from the balloon, and that they could not remain up more than an hour longer. If this statement should prove to be true it will remove all doubt as to the fate of Donaldson and his companions.

The affidavits of Brigham Young and George A. Smith were yesterday offered in the Mountain Meadow massacre trial, but were ruled out by the Court. They were, however, filed by the clerk. The substance of the affidavits is that neither Young nor Smith issued any instructions in regard to the massacre, and that they knew nothing of the massacre until after it had been perpetrated, and then only by general report. They admit having counseled their people not to sell grain or fowls to any parties.

Three convicts, named Rodifer, Ryan and Briggs, made a desperate attempt to escape from the Indiana State prison at Jeffersonville yesterday. They overpowered the guard, took his revolver away and were marching off when an alarm was given. The warden and storekeeper came to the assistance of the guard when a scuffle took place, during which Rodifer was shot three times and the guard shot in the arm. The convicts finally were overpowered.

The ex-priest Gerdeemann was arrested yesterday in Philadelphia, at the instance of A. Dieffenbach, of New York, agent for Fred. Postel, on the charge of embezzlement, in retaining goods to the amount of $578.33, which had been forwarded to him while pastor of St. Bonifacius Church. He was held to bail for trial. As Gerdeemann was entering a street car he was assaulted by two men, who were promptly arrested. Gerdeemann escaped uninjured.

Intelligence received at Vienna from the camp of the Herzegovinian insurgents reports that a number of engagements have taken place between them and the Turkish forces, in which the latter were defeated, with a loss of three cannon and eighty rifles. The population of the Montenegro frontier were expected to join the insurgents in a few days, when they would lay siege to the town of Trebinja.

CASE OF BISHOP WHITTINGHAM. NO TRIAL TO TAKE PLACE.

The investigation into the charges preferred against Right Rev. Bishop Whittingham, of Maryland, which has been in progress in Baltimore since Thursday morning last, was concluded yesterday afternoon. The Board of Inquiry, by a vote of nine to four, sustained the Bishop, and passed a resolution that there were not sufficient grounds for his trial.

Rev. Dr. Breck was the president, E. Wyatt Blanchard secretary, and Daniel Clarke the church advocate. The board were somewhat in the nature of a grand jury the bishop was not represented by counsel, nor was he present in person at any time during the sittings.

The presenters of the Bishop were Rev. A. M. Randolph and Rev. G. W. Peterkin, of Baltimore, and Dr. P. C. Williams, Gen. I. R. Trimble, Wm. Woodward and Randolph Barton, of Baltimore, and Fendall Marbury, of Prince George's county. They were present during the sessions of the board when the testimony was taken, but not during the deliberations, and were allowed to present the case against the bishop to sustain their presentment.

The charge made by the presenters was that Bishop Whittingham refused to bring to trial Rev. Messrs. Perry and Ritchie, who were presented by the standing committee for alleged violation of the law of the Church in the article "On Purgatory," by reading prayers for the dead and compelling a manual of prayers for the dead.

The resolution adopted in the Bishop's case was as follows:

"Whereas this board of inquiry, convened by the action of the Right Rev. B. E. Smith, D.D., presiding bishop of the House of Bishops, to consider certain charges in the case of the Right Rev. William R. Whittingham, D.D., bishop of Maryland, having duly and fully considered the said charges, do hereby

"Resolve, That from the evidence before them they are of opinion that there are not sufficient grounds to put the Right Rev. William R. Whittingham upon his trial in the said matters."

This resolution was adopted by a vote of nine to four.

The four members from the Diocese of Virginia comprised the minority, voting solely in favor of bringing the Bishop to trial, while all of the other nine members of the Board voted in favor of the adoption of the preamble and resolution.

The following are the names of the four gentlemen from the Diocese of Virginia who voted against the adoption of the preamble and resolution: Rev. George H. Norton, D. D., Alexandria; Rev. J. S. Hancock, Charlottesville; Judge Hugh W. Sheffey, Staunton, and N. H. Massie, esq., Charlottesville.

A resolution also acquitting the Bishop, but placing the result arrived at on somewhat different grounds, was offered as a substitute for the original resolution, but was voted down, the majority not being willing to give expression to their grounds of their action in the language proposed, and preferring simply to declare that there was no sufficient cause to put the Bishop on his trial. The rejected resolution was as follows:

Resolved, That from the evidence before them they are of opinion that the bishop of Maryland, in the exercise of his office as ordinary, having in the matter of charges against certain clergymen of his diocese administered the discipline of the church previous to said matters of charge from the presentment made against him, and in the full knowledge, had satisfied the demand of the law, as advised by his counsel of advice, and that there was on his part no purpose of intentional or willful violation of the canons of his diocese.

The resolution adopted in regard to the clergyman of Mt. Calvary Church is as follows: "Resolved, That the president of this board be instructed to accompany the charges and certificate of the refusal of the board to make a presentment against the bishop of Maryland with a statement of our unanimous and emphatic condemnation of the alleged acts and teachings of Revs. Messrs. Perry and Ritchie, of Mount Calvary Church, set forth and complained of in the presentment made against them by the standing committee to their bishop, and for which they have been admonished by him."

This resolution was unanimously adopted. Though it was adopted immediately subsequent to the resolution in regard to the Bishop, it was known to the members that such a resolution would be adopted, and this is thought to have strengthened the Bishop's side.

It was stated by Bishop Whittingham in his communication to the standing committee that the Revs. Messrs. Perry and Ritchie had made a proper amendment, and promised him that they would not again expose themselves to the charge which had been made against them to him. The action of the board requires the president to accompany the return to the House of Bishops with a statement of the condemnation of the acts and teachings objected to.

It is said that Dr. Norton made a clear and powerful argument in support of the accusation against the Bishop.

After the adjournment of the Board Mr. Blanchard, by direction, proceeded to the residence of Bishop Whittingham with the resolution against his presentment, and informed him of the result of the inquiry, which he received with satisfaction.

A monster suit against the United States has just been instituted in the U. S. Court of Western Missouri by the heirs of a certain Spanish officer stationed at the post of Arkansas in 1793, for the recovery of six million acres of land in Arkansas and Missouri, granted to him at that date. One-third of the contested lands have been owned by private citizens for seventy years, and the grant from the United States. Four million acres are still unlocated. The inhabited part is filled with towns, intersected by railroads, built up in villages and laid out in farms. The claim is lodged upon by lawyers as being perfectly valid. The claimants are residents of Arkansas, and are nearly all of them poor people.

OCCOQUAN MILLS.—Mr. Jauney has been at considerable expense during the past year in putting in new and improved machinery, mill stones, &c., and his new process family and high grade extra flour stand high in the Alexandria market, and it is evidently to the interest of farmers of the surrounding counties to stand by the Occoquan mills and to sustain Mr. Jauney in his endeavor to establish a reputation for his flour, as the more he gets for his flour the better the prices he will be able to give for wheat.—Monrovia Gazette.

STAFFORD COUNTY.—The corn crop is unusually promising; the oat crop is generally good, and the wheat better than for several years. The threshing machines are kept very busy, and the yield of grain in proportion to the area is very large. There is less croaking among the farmers than usual.—Fredericksburg News.

GATHERING AND CURING SUMAC.—Sumac should be gathered from the last of June until the first frost, after which the leaves turn red and become worthless. It should be cured as much as possible under shelter to preserve its color and strength, and protect it from dew and rain. Strip the leaves and last stems as in pulling fodder. Do not gather twigs or berries. Dry in the shade under shelter. Stir often, as in curing hay, till it is perfectly dry. If spread too thickly, or heaped in bulk before dried, it will heat and spoil. Exposure to the sun destroys the color, which must be green. When cured, the stems snap short and the leaf crumbles in handling. It may then be packed in bags, and is ready for market.

Eighteen thousand mill operatives are out of employment at Oldham, England, owing to the lockout. The feeling is very bitter against the employers.

Letter from London Co.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.] LEESBURG, VA., Aug. 2, 1875.—A meeting of the Stockholders of the "Potomac Bridge Company," at the Point of Rocks, is called for the 17th of this month, at the office of Powell Harrison, in Leesburg. It is understood that parties interested in the immense iron ore banks of the Potomac Furnace, near the Point of Rocks, have secured the State's and stockholders' interest in the bridge, and will soon put up a new bridge in the place of the one burnt in 1861. This will be of great benefit to all the farmers from Goochville to Lovettsville, and will draw trade away from White's Ferry and from Berlin, and may induce parties at the latter place to rebuild the bridge at Berlin.

Everything looks well in the near future for Loudoun farmers. The abundant rains have secured the corn crop, while they came so late as to enable farmers to stack all the oats and grass cut, though both crops are below the average. The wheat was secured in fine condition, and is generally above the crop of last year, though some crops are far below. The grass seed has also done better this year than for several years, and this alone is worth a vast deal to the farmers, as it is the foundation for future crops. The berry crop has simply been enormous, and great quantities of cherries dried I presume, they being the perquisites of these branches of the family, as a Loudoun farmer would grow to make his profit out of anything that grows above ground more than ten feet, because if he did so, he would have to look up to the source from which, and not from his own labor and skill only, his blessings come.

Cattle and sheep have proved very profitable, one man making a profit of $5.70, upon an investment of $3.50. Now all these matters taken in connection with the fact that the increased facilities about to be presented in the way of reaching the canal with his products, thus securing low freights, show that his profits must be greater in the next five years than in the last five.

August is the season of recreation in Loudoun. The Grangers' picnic; the Round Hill camp meeting; the Middleburg camp meeting; the Friends' quarterly meeting; the Baptist Association, all winding up early in September with the grand "Good Templars' picnic near Leesburg, will give a grand opportunity for social, religious, moral and political intercourse rarely presented. Candidates for the Senate should be on the alert. The Loudoun candidates for the nomination will be Taylor and Matthews, and the contest will be an animated one. I have heard Lee and Nicol favorably mentioned here, but Prince William is clearly entitled to one candidate and should name him, and then as to the other the loudest pole may not knock the persons, as organization can accomplish more with a small force wielded than a large force badly handled.

I am inclined to the belief that Loudoun is unprepared for a sharp, decisive campaign; in fact in the last three years every county in the district has elected an independent to office. Round, Lucas, Chichester and Garrett. If we were to venture a prediction I would say that W. H. F. Lee stands the best chance to be one of the Senators from this district; for in addition to his merits, which are said to be considerable, (I do not know him,) "he stands the shadow of a great name," so I translate, "stat non omnia munda sunt in parva." Whether Gen. Lee will be a candidate, I think, is the only question.

People generally are looking anxiously and hopefully to the "Stevens proposition" for the active resumption of work on the W. & O. R. R., and its completion to Winchester, where it will be in the condition that Mikie Free's father was when he had his head and shoulders out of the gates of purgatory, namely: in an advantageous position. It can not be otherwise than a favorable opportunity to the road.

Total delinquents, $338 09 To amount of assessment received by treasurer, $3,425 40 By commission on receipts, at 3 per cent., $102 78 Amount carried to contingent fund, $500 00 Expenditures as per vouchers, 2,427 22 Amount of taxes relieved by Board of County, 88 82 To balance due County Treasurer, 43 40 By balance due Treasurer carried down, $43 40

CONTINGENT FUND. To balance due the county from the contingent fund on last settlement, $119 94 Amount brought from the general fund, 850 00 Amount overpaid Treasurer on account of stationery, 45 00 By amount of expenditures, as per vouchers, (including the $678 balance due the Treasurer from the general fund on last settlement), 875 67 By balance due the county, 183 27 To balance due county, carried down, $1,014 94

The foregoing settlement for the year 1874 is supported by satisfactory vouchers, and shows a balance of forty-three dollars and forty cents due from the county to the County Treasurer on account of the general fund, and a balance of one hundred and thirty-nine dollars and twenty-seven cents due from the County Treasurer to the county on account of the contingent fund. This settlement is approved by the Board, and it is ordered to be published in the Alexandria Gazette and spread upon the records by the County Clerk.

COUNTY TREASURER'S REPORT.

At a meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Alexandria county, held at the Court House of said county, on Monday, the 24 day of August, 1875, there were present, F. G. Schutt, Chairman, and G. Vandenberg. Absent: W. A. Roe, associates.

F. E. Corbett, Treasurer of Alexandria county, proceeded to make his final settlement with the County for the year 1874 of the accounts of Virgil P. Corbett, deceased, late County Treasurer, and of F. E. Corbett, Treasurer for the unexpired term of the said V. P. Corbett.

1875, August 2.—V. P. Corbett, County Treasurer, in account with Alexandria county, Va. Amount of county levy assessed as follows, to wit:
